102-9 Supply chain	Our product ingredients are mainly agricultural commodities — grains, grapes, agave, etc. Our agricultural supply chain has impacts on water, land use, biodiversity, soil quality, greenhouse gas emissions, and more. Product lifecycle assessments have shown us that most of the emissions, waste, and water associated with our products occur in our supply chain. These impacts, which fall outside of our direct control, are harder to mitigate than our own operations. Our procurement teams consider sustainability when they source raw materials to make our products. We are part of the supply chain for our biggest customers — distributors and retailers. Since 2011, we have responded to the CDP Supply Chain disclosure questionnaire.

	STAKEHOLDER ENGAGEMENT
	102-40 List of stakeholder groups	We involve many people in our day-to-day responsibility efforts and are open to diverse external opinions in making decisions. We proactively engage with others who have the most influence on and are most influenced by, our business — our stakeholders. Meaningful relationships with our stakeholders underpin our work and our company. To have the most impact, we focus on what we do well by prioritizing the Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) issues that are closest to our business and conducting periodic assessments of our most material issues. We held formal external and internal stakeholder workshops in 2011, 2012, 2014, and 2021. We also conducted a formal assessment with our stakeholders in 2015 and 2020 to identify our most pressing ESG issues, and are in the process of doing so in 2022. Our priority stakeholders include consumers, non-profits and community organizations, employees, the Brown Family shareholders, issue experts and thought leaders, investors, customers, suppliers, and government regulators.
	102-41 Collective bargaining agreements	Brown-Forman Global Human Rights Policy Supplier Code of Conduct 2022
	102-42 Identifying and selecting stakeholders	We work with the non-profit organization Ceres to bring together experts for discussion about our corporate responsibility strategy with executive leaders from across our business. The Ceres engagement was also an important input into our significant issues assessments conducted in 2015. We are in the process of a new assessment in 2022.
102-43 Approach to stakeholder engagement	Our engagement with stakeholders and partners is an ongoing process, and we invite them to share feedback and ideas with us. We seek targeted feedback on our corporate responsibility performance and communications through periodic formal stakeholder sessions that we have conducted since 2008. Internal stakeholders also provide valuable direction for our ESG strategy. Our employee engagement survey, most recently conducted in 2019, includes questions about Brown-Forman’s commitment to corporate responsibility, which helps us measure what matters to employees and evaluate how we are meeting their expectations.

GRI 102: General Disclosures 2016

102-44 Key topics and concerns raised	The Ceres discussion focused on greater integration of corporate responsibility into our business strategy, key sourcing impacts, and overall disclosure of risks, impacts, and opportunities. This feedback is forming the way that we evolve our approach and priorities, including ramping up our efforts going forward to address sustainability in our supply chain and the addition of a water target in our revised goals.
REPORTING PRACTICE
102-45 Entities included in the consolidated financial statements	Our reporting covers all entities described in our 2022 Form 10-K.
102-46 Defining report content and topic Boundaries	To help us prioritize the corporate responsibility issues that matter most to our business, we conducted an assessment of the areas of significant impacts on our business. The assessment helped us better understand the importance of these issues to our stakeholders and to the success of our business. To define the content and scope of this report, we carried out a series of activities to develop our list of material issues: We assessed the current relevance of material topics identified in external and internal stakeholder workshops conducted in 2011, 2012, and 2014. We also conducted a formal assessment with our stakeholders in 2015 to identify our most pressing ESG issues. We are in the process of refreshing this assessment in 2022. Based on our findings we refined and developed a topic list for additional testing, reviewing this against relevant Global Reporting Initiative aspects and definitions for completeness. We tested a long list of issues internally, conducting a workshop that included employees from across a range of business areas to assess the importance of and impact to the business of the identified topics. We supplemented our understanding and prioritization of the issues through a series of external interviews with subject matter experts in the areas of alcohol responsibility, alcohol distribution and marketing, industry ethics, agriculture, water, and other environmental concerns, as well as with Brown family representatives and investors. We worked with an independent consultant to conduct these interviews to help further guide our understanding of stakeholder perspectives on these issues. Taking into account the feedback from internal and external stakeholders, and through conversations involving senior leadership, we arrived at our current list of significant issues.
102-47 List of material topics	Material Aspects:            Responsible Marketing Practices, Reducing Alcohol-Related Harms, Public Policy Influence, Promoting Responsible Drinking, Energy &amp; Climate Stewardship, Raw Materials Sourcing, Water Use in Operations, Waste Generation &amp; Management, Community Investment &amp; Volunteerism, Employee Health Safety &amp; Wellness, Labor &amp; Human Rights, Diversity &amp; Inclusion, Corporate Governance
